1 Corinthians 2:9

Why Do We Fast?

There are strong precedents in scripture for fasting. This spiritual discipline, mentioned over 70 times throughout scripture, was practiced by Moses before he received the Ten Commandments, Israel before they saw great revival, Esther before she went before the King, Jesus during his temptation in the wilderness, and so many others. Fasting is a sign of humility towards God. He will hear us and respond if we are humble and broken. (Ezra 8:21-23)

Coupled with prayer, fasting makes our spirit more sensitive to God as we deny our carnal self. The scripture is illuminated as revelation comes. (Exodus 34:28)

Fasting brings true repentance and change, leading to personal revival that will spill out to our family, church, and city.

Notice that all fasting was done before attempting to conquer, overcome, or move forward. (Matthew 17:20-21) . Likewise, we as a body must fast before we can move and go Forward. For our families, for our church, and for our city.
